LEGENDARY PERFORMANCE MEETS MODERN DESIGN : *THE STEALTH
An Aluminum Hard Shell Roof Top Tent from the Industry Veterans at Eezi-Awn

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah – January 24, 2017 – Equipt Expedition Outfitters, the industry leader in high-quality, vehicle expedition equipment, and the exclusive U.S. distributor of Eezi-Awn, is excited to announce the next evolution of hard shell roof top tents. With decades of proven experience on every major continent, Eezi-Awn’s fabric tents have consistently outperformed the competition and set the industry’s benchmark for both durability and performance. Today, they set another standard with the unveiling of the brand-new Stealth--a matte black powder-coated, all-aluminum hard shell roof top tent, weighing a mere 220 pounds.

“The first thing I did when I unboxed this thing was wipe up my drool.” said Paul May, Founder & President of Equipt. “The lines are so slick, and the overall aesthetic really catches your eye. It’s certainly not what you imagine when you think of a safari tent, but that’s the best part. It retains the quality you expect from Eezi-Awn, the ease of deployment you expect from a hard shell, and yet it can perch on top of your SUV like the vehicle was built around it.”

Much of the appeal that comes from a hard shell roof top tent is the quick setup and takedown, and the Stealth is no exception. A single person can quickly unclip four latches and easily lift to open, then push down gently to close and lock. The full process takes only minutes to complete.
